General information about ‘Integrity Ireland’

The fundamental purpose for the establishment of the ‘Integrity Ireland’ support group and website is to address in some effective manner, the prevailing culture of corruption, cronyism and criminal cover-ups that exists within many Irish institutions – particularly within instruments of the State and their direct affiliates; especially in law enforcement, the legal profession, statutory oversight bodies and the Courts.

The aims and purpose of the ‘Integrity Ireland’ website align with the legitimate aims and objectives of an initiating group of law-abiding ‘concerned citizens’ who have been subjected to disquieting incidences of improper and/or illegal treatment at the hands of State agencies or institutions—or by other individuals, agencies or institutions closely affiliated with State agencies.

The ‘Integrity Ireland’ website will serve primarily as an information source, as well as a contact-and-support point for citizens to air their concerns; where they can lodge, publicise and pursue their complaints; and otherwise offer mutual support and assistance to citizens in similar circumstances.

Care will be taken to ensure that all ‘Integrity Ireland’-related activities, including any materials posted on the website, remain within the bounds of legal and professional norms.

The website and group will be ‘non-profit’ in status, but may in time offer subscriptions for newsletters / paralegal services / merchandising / and a donation facility under certain terms and conditions, for the purposes of maintaining a professional ethos, and for practical and logistical reasons such as covering the costs of maintaining the website, producing publications, facilitating private and public meetings, and maintaining a members’ list for online mailings and newsletters.

Integrity Ireland is registered in Ireland as an Unincorporated Association. The website, logo and association name are privately registered and copyrighted.
